

Guide for how to use the online course catalogue at Leibniz Universität Hannover (LUH)

- 1) Change of the displayed semester and access to course catalogues of previous semesters in LSF
- 2) How do I find courses offered in a foreign language?

Stand: 15.03.2024

- 1) Change of the displayed semester and access to course catalogues of previous semesters in LSF
 - By changing the semester in the drop-down menu, you can view the course catalogue for the current semester and the last four semesters. This gives you an initial idea of the courses on offer in a degree programme or subject before the courses are published for the upcoming term (always on September 1 or March 1 of the year).
 - To do this, you do not need a LUH-Login.

Go to:

- a) Lecture List
- b) The currently-selected semester is displayed at the top centre. The language can be changed from English to German and vice versa.

If you click on the semester indicator (red circle) you can switch to an earlier one (you have the choice between the current and the last four terms).

After you have selected the term (here winter term 2022/23), you can review the class offerings ...

• by choosing Courses,

- go to Course Overview,
- choose our relevant faculty (example: Faculty of Humanities),
